The Returnee: Time Travel, Lives Past and the Art of Dying. The Kabbala of Death. Richard-Rafael Joachim

A man lies dying and his life is in review but something happens and he is cast back to various periods of his life and the life before this one. Certain events and objects distort time and he finds that he can go back to various period and even make changes to his life-line. The essential Kabbala of life and death is revealed.

This book may be read as an autobiography, a novel, a philosophy, a science text book, and / or a 'how to' instruction book of time travel and how to deal with dying. It is both a deeply personal account and an exploration of the cosmological maths involved. The author seeks answers to some of the most puzzling aspects of science and personality.

Post-Script: On the 7th of August, 2014, the man died at about 2am when he rolled out of bed unconscious. His wife called an ambulance but they couldn't revive him. he has suffered multiple organ failure which closed his liver, kidneys, pancreas and heart due to a severe blood-sugar low which didn't leave him enough energy to keep the organs functioning. The hospital called in his wife next day to tell her he husband had passed away and asking her what she wanted to do with the corpse. During the period the man was dead he experiences some amazing revelations and living prophecies for today and in the future. these he has faithfully recorded in the letter pages of this revised book. there are very important messages and warning for everyone in this book. It covers the massive geopolitical changes the world is currently going through and which will only get worse. The book names the people and places and the circumstances of what is happening and what will come. the author does not see himself as a prophet or a messiah jsut someone who died and returned for some reason. his death and the circumstances around his death are easily proven and there are many reliable witnesses and it happened in an ultra-modern Western Hospital. the man remembers nothing from the time a few days prior to his death with about a week before revising this book. he has lost about a month of his life. Any sane and sensible person needs to read this book. it has been deliberately made very cheap so it can be gifted to others,
